Let's Murder Marsha

*Rivertime Players to perform
two nights only*

The Rivertime Players will perform the comedy "Lets Murder Marsha" this weekend on two consecutive nights. The performance will take place at the Municipal building May 29th and 30th at 7:00 p.m.

Written by Monk Ferris in 1984, the play introduces the happy housewife Marsha Gilmore who loves to read murder mystery novels. She and her husband Tobias live near the harbor in Toronto. After overhearing her husbands plans to throw a surprise birthday for her, Marsha mistakenly assumes he is planning to murder her and run off with a character named Persis Devore.

With the assistance of her next door neighbor, Marsha plans to turn the tables on her husband by poisoning him. When her maid brings a policeman as a date, Marsha thinks he is on to her poisoning scheme.

Cast members include Tobias Gilmore, Mark Tubbs, Marsha Gilmore, Elicia Spain, Persis Devore, Alyssa Brittain, Virgil Baxter, Adam Stanford, Lynnette Thoren, Tonja Hendrix, Dotty Hill, Ben Quade and David Taylor. Call 847-6358. Adult tickets are $5.

According to Mark Tubbs, the Rivertime Players have been practicing two days a week for eight weeks and hope to begin a series of plays depending on this weekends response. The Rivertime Players are always searching for new performers. Interested parties can contact the Municipal Building.
